

The Cincinnati Post

Established January 3, 1881.

(A Scripps-Howard Newspaper.)

FRANK W. ROSTOCK, President and Editor.

RALPH H. QUINN, Business Manager.

Published by The Post Publishing Company, Post Square, Cincinnati, Ohio. Telephone Parkway 1111.

Member of United Press, Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance, NEA Service, Inc., Newspaper Information Service and Audit Bureau of Circulations.

"Give light and the people will find their own way."

GREAT POWER FROM GOD: Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of an enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.—Luke 10:19. Press Radio Bible Service, Inc.

Clipping the Crook's Wing's

IF James Whitcomb Riley's heroine, "Little Orphan Annie," were of this generation and a member of a criminal family, she would change her warning to "The radio'll git you if you don't watch out."

The new police radio system has been in operation only a few days, but it is catching the crooks with a certainty and speed far beyond the expectation of delighted police officials.

One stolen auto was recovered within one minute after its theft was reported. Within half an hour after another car was stolen, the car was found and the thief was in custody. A burglar was caught in the act within a few minutes after his presence in a house was reported. A citizen telephoned police when he saw a street fight; three cruising police cars nipped that fight before it got fairly started. In one case, police arrived on the scene of a theft while the person reporting it still was telephoning to police headquarters.

The new Station X at City Hall is the scene of continuous and exciting drama. Tough times are ahead for the criminal element in Cincinnati. The automobile gave wings to the criminal, but radio, with the speed of light, is clipping his wings. Here's how it works.

The police department now has a radio broadcast station. Police cars cruising about in every part of the city are equipped with radio receivers. Every report of crime of any kind, or accident, is broadcast immediately it is received and is heard instantly by the cruising police. The cruisers nearest the scene rush there. The chances of the criminal to escape are reduced to a minimum. In cases of accident many an injured person's life will be saved by speedier attention.

The public can help the police make Cincinnati unsafe for criminals by reporting promptly any criminal activity. Call directly for Station X, where police messages are broadcast. The radio and the cruising patrols will do the rest and do it more quickly and effectively than was dreamed of before the new system was installed.

—o*o—

CITATION (MLA STYLE)

Cincinnati Post, 19 June 1931, p. 6. NewsBank: America's Historical Newspapers, infoweb.newsbank.com/apps/news/document-view?p=EANX-NB&docref=image/v2%3A13E376E28E0F8354%40EANX-NB-167741705BBC694F%402426512-1675541E33291A7C%405-1675541E33291A7C%40. Accessed 29 Apr. 2020.

© This entire service and/or content portions thereof are copyrighted by NewsBank and/or its content providers.